Gallery Learning Programme & Mediation of Artworks for the Public

The Gallery Learning Programme is an important part of our programme. It gives people opportunities to view and experience art in different ways. Some examples of this include workshops, demonstrations, talks and screenings.

If you are selected for this opportunity, you must be happy to have your work mediated to the public. You may be asked to be involved in the Learning Programme up to a maximum of 10 hours. As an example, this could include taking part in a talk, giving one tour of your exhibition and/or a workshop. Payment for your time to take part in these events is included in the overall commission fee of €12,000.

Please be aware that your work will be viewed by members of the public who may not regularly go to Galleries. Our Gallery is in a public library, and we aim to make the work accessible to all that visit.

Artworks will be labelled; the description about your exhibition will be in Plain English on a large board and hung on the wall just inside the Gallery. This is to help make visitors' experience of the Gallery as accessible as possible. Museum quality labels are used to label artworks in the Gallery. Artists will have the choice of 2 label sizes: 100 x 50mm / 100 x 150mm; text for the labels will be minimum 11-point sans serif font (simple modern font).

How will we select the artists?

Applications may be shortlisted by DLR Arts Office. This will include an assessment of suitability and fit within the gallery programme. Shortlisted applications will be assessed by a panel which will include members of our team and individuals who have visual arts expertise. The decision of the selection panel will be final.

These criteria will be used to assess each application:

- Suitability of your application to a gallery in a public library: (40/100)
Please think about who the visitors are to the Gallery in dlr LexIcon in your proposal. The audience for your exhibition will be a mixture of library visitors, local people, local arts community, tourists, and day visitors. The work submitted must be suitable for viewing by both adults and children. Part of this assessment of proposals will include looking at how your exhibition fits into the overall gallery programme. This may include looking at both the medium and themes of your work. Arts Office team members with specialist experience will assess the suitability and fit within the gallery programme.
- Quality of your previous work (40/100)
- Previous experience of delivering comparable exhibitions/projects/commissions (20/100)
