Ghoulishly Green Halloween Guide

TIPS FOR A SUSTAINABLE SPOOKY SEASON

Comhairle Contae County Council

Halloween Costumes

🎃 This Halloween rather than splashing out on a non-recyclable costume, get creative or search your local charity shop for some vintage bargains. An old sheet can be transformed into a convincing ghost and its just as easy to scare up a zombie costume with some ragged-clothing.

🎃 Why not trade your old costumes with friends and family, reducing the environmental impact and cost!

Spooky Decorations

🎃 Halloween is a time of dressing up, trick or treating and putting up decorations but it can also be a time where large volumes of waste are generated. Single-use decorations are a large contributor to the amount of waste produced during this season.

🎃 A variety of creative and spooky decorations can be made at home from items you already have around the house or perhaps in the recycling bin!

🎃 Why not try create your own decoration this year? Most decorations you make can be reused the next year.

- 🍁 Try out some low waste games such as bobbing for apples or put a scary twist on traditional games such as pin the broom on the witch or musical 'monster' statues.

After Halloween

Pumpkins

While pumpkins can make some great Halloween decorations, they are often left to waste once the spooky season has passed. However, by utilizing the full pumpkin their impact on the environment can be reduced!

Save the Seeds

Why not save the seeds from your pumpkin so you can grow your own for the next year!

Cooking

Save the filling and do some cooking, there are a lot of recipes online from pumpkin soup to pumpkin pie, the opportunities are endless. Check out some popular pumpkin recipes here: <https://stopfoodwaste.ie/seasonal-events/making-the-most-of-pumpkin>

Compost

Any parts of your pumpkin that are not used, can be composted! Place your pumpkin in your home composter or your food waste bin when finished. Make sure to avoid painting your pumpkin so you can successfully compost it when finished.

Top Tip

Make sure to chop your pumpkin up into small pieces and add some brown materials to your composter when adding it to your home composter.
